

Local mum in the running for a national award

A businesswoman from Bushey is in the running for a prestigious national award.

Donna Obstfeld, founder and managing director of DOHR, an HR practice, has just been nominated in 'The Experts In Their Field' Category of the Business Mums Awards. This will be the fifth year of the awards and the first time DOHR has been nominated.

DOHR deals with every aspect of HR for SME's. Donna's business has been in operation since 2007 and now employs an experienced team of three other HR and Recruitment experts. The business offers a bespoke mix of HR consultancy and support to business owners who need to focus on delivering their core products and services to their clients, but who want to ensure compliance and the effectiveness of their workforce.

This past year has seen rapid expansion of DOHR, taking on new clients in many different industry sectors. Donna has also been approached to write for the press, including My Bushey News, as well as appearing over the airwaves through BBC Three Counties Radio.

Donna has been named as one of the final 100 nominees for the award. All the finalists have been invited to be named regional ambassadors and may be called upon to represent their region in any local or regional press engagements. They will also be able to use these events to highlight their own business.

The next step is the judging process. Each of the finalists above were amongst the top 10 in their category. A panel of judges will now deliberate over the finalists and name one winner for each category.

The winners will be announced at a ceremony in December.
